

Hello fellow Arribans,

I hope that when you read this, you are healthy and have a smile on your face! The competition season is over now, but the basketball sport will continue as will the spirit and hard efforts of the board. This time it is my turn to write something from the board, so here I go.

I guess you're hoping for some good jokes, nice poetry or interesting stories like usual? Well, I've decided to write a story about myself, the board and the art of being treasurer. Some might wonder about the connection here, but I'm not going to discuss that. Instead, let us just take a dive into the wondrous world of me, member and treasurer of Arriba.

First of all: the art of being a treasurer. One of the main things you do as a treasurer is making sure the money is at the right place at the right time. Let me give an illustration: Arriba's money on Arriba's bank account is a good thing. Your money on Arriba's bank account is also a good thing. However, Arriba's money on your account is not so good. I am there to solve these kind of problems.

But being a board member is much more than just running the finances. Parties have to be organized, commissions have to be filled, general problems have to be solved, and now and then we share a drink with higher authorities. I must say, life as a board member is quite diverse. And you also learn a lot. Lately, I've acquired the basic skills of photo editing, in order to make promotion material (see the result on the right side). Designing a flyer turned out to be a pretty fun and satisfying task.

Of course, the thing I like to do most at Arriba is playing basketball. I've enjoyed yet another great competition season. The same goes for all the practices until now. I've seen some loyal members that were there almost every practice, and there are some members I would like to see more often. Besides playing basketball, I'm also open to friendly conversations with Arribans. That is of course, if they've paid their contribution ;-)

I wish you all a very good day and good luck with the batavieren!

Sjoerd Geevers,
Treasurer DBV Arriba

Nadat Arriba al een aantal keer had meegedaan aan de Batavierenrace en ik niet, had ik 4 jaar geleden besloten om me toch in te schrijven voor de Bata. Ik had altijd gedacht: "hardlopen, dat is toch niks voor mij. En 8 km fietsen vind ik al ver, laat staan hardlopen. En er ook nog voor moeten betalen. Nee, dat lijkt mij niks." Maar omdat er al een aantal leden waar ik het wel goed mee kon vinden zich in hadden geschreven heb ik dat toen toch ook maar gedaan. Toen kwam ik er pas achter hoe leuk de Batavierenrace was en dat het niet alleen om het hardlopen draait.

Dat jaar heeft Tim (toen voorzitter) het laatste stuk van de slotetappe over de sintelbaan met de grote Arriba-trommel gelopen. Daarnaast had de nacht- en ochtendploeg de luxe van een chauffeur. De Arribaan reed toen, volgens hem, op aanwijzingen van een verkeersregelaar bij één van de wisselpunten achteruit tegen een boom. En hopseflops: schade aan het busje.

Toch valt onze schade wel mee in vergelijking met sommige teams. Dit komt ook doordat er meer dan 300 busjes van wisselpunt naar wisselpunt over smalle weggetjes moeten rijden. Zo is bijvoorbeeld tijdens de vorige Bata een deur uit een busje gereden en een bij een andere Bata was iemand vergeten de handrem erop te zetten, waardoor het busje in één van de vijvers van de UT was beland (zie rechts).

Het jaar erop had Arriba problemen met de fiets. We mochten de fiets van Sander gebruiken, maar al bij de nachtploeg was het frame doormidden gebroken. Met ducttape is het frame toen weer aan elkaar geplakt en heeft de nachtploeg de rest van de etappes uitgefietst met een aan elkaar geplakte fiets. Naar verluide fietste dat niet zo fijn. De ochtendploeg heeft toen een fiets meegenomen in de touringcar bus en met die fiets is toen de rest van de Batavierenrace afgelegd.

Afgelopen jaar is de Batavierenrace eigenlijk goed verlopen. Op een paar kleine puntjes na (geen plastic bestek, geen stoelen en geen satésaus) waren er geen echte problemen. Een aantal Arribanen heeft na afloop van de barbecue laten zien dat je met zo'n busje ook donuts kan maken op het grasveld. Als aandenken hadden we basketballbroekjes in plaats van de gebruikelijke T-shirtjes. Het is leuk om te zien dat deze veel gebruikt worden tijdens de trainingen en het was een goede keuze.

Vroeger was er wat rivaliteit tussen Harambee en Arriba. Inmiddels is dit wat afgezwakt. Zo was er een voorzitter die tijdens een feest van Harambee in de Vestingbar plotseling de microfoon had overgenomen en een toespraak had gehouden over het afgelopen seizoen van Harambee. En zaten er op een gegeven moment een heleboel Arriba-stickers op de Renault 5 van Harambee. Misschien is dat de reden dat Arriba daardoor elk jaar boven Harambee wil eindigen. Meestal is dit ook gelukt. In het overzicht hieronder staat op welke plaats Arriba en Harambee de afgelopen jaren zijn geëindigd.

	'11	'10	'09	'08	'07	'06	'05	'04	'03	'02
Arriba	75*	73	DNF	100	Niet	228	119	69	136	58
Harambee	190	133	117	120	74	92	140	118	167	121

* Volgens de officiële uitslag zijn we op plaats 126 geëindigd, omdat we (onterecht) veel straf tijd hebben gekregen vanwege een verkeerde wissel. Als deze straf tijd niet meegeteld wordt zouden we op plaats 75 zijn geëindigd.

** Doordat we geen ochtendploeg hadden, hebben we meer dan 5 etappes niet gelopen, waardoor we buiten mededingen meededen.

*** Bij het inschrijven was wat misgegaan. We hadden ons voorlopig ingeschreven, maar niet definitief. Hierdoor konden we niet meer meedoen.

Review theme party

Most people cannot remember a thing from what must have been one of the greatest Arriba parties all time: The Heroes from your Childhood Themeparty on 28 maart. Luckily some pictures were found:

At 5 a.m. only the diehards were left.

Hans (links in the pic) was verkleed als zijn basketbalheld. Redmar was helaas niet in thema.

Nadat de voorzitter ook Imme eruit had gezopen was het tijd om te gaan.

Final season update

Our first team was unlucky the last few games, after two wins in a row the were beaten by Pidgeons who were simply the better playing team, then at home they lost to Basketiers. However Arriba was the better team if they had only had a higher shooting percentage. The last game was in and against Zwolle. Zwolle had a good team and it was a nice game on a beautifull court! Heren one even tried the isolation play a few times. Heren 1 lost and is last in the competition. It was a year of learning. The comeback was too late. I'm really curious on how this team will do next year, can they go for first place?

Just like heren 1 they lost their last game. I'm talking about Heren 4. This year H3 & H4 were together in the same competition. Heren 4 had some new arriba rookies and some players who just started playing. Their first game was a small loss, however team spirit was high and as I was coaching this team I knew it was a good one. Heren 4 did outstanding even beating Arriba H3 at their first match up. The fourth team consist of some good rookies, experienced older players and some bench players from our third. You can never predict a game of theirs beforehand. A solid 4th place for the 4th team. Something they can be proud of.

Heren 3 did slightly better in the competition. Heren 3 has an experienced team with players who know eachother pretty well by playing together for several years. They have a really fun team, wich likes to make some noice. Always well represented at Arriba events and at practice! They had a rough start loosing to svzw and valley bucketeers 4. At home Heren 3 showed they were capable of more and defeated the same valley bucketeers with 27 points! In the and Heren 3 overtakes Heren 4 on the ranking and in the Arriba series, winning it 2-1. (With one controversial win in between.) Heren 3 improves on practices and wins the last 3 out of 4 games only loosing to number one S.V.Z.W. Arriba's 3th team ranks 3th in the competition.

Arriba is lucky with an active first ladies team. The first ladies team was not so lucky this competition. Few have left the first team and few have joined, leaving realistic hopes for a good run in the competition. After a few games they have their first win against Flevo Musketiers.

Unfortenetely some players are leaving or missing practices because of interships, injuries, etc. At some point in the competition they had to play with only 4 players! A lot of the ladies games were decided on a few points or in the last few minutes. For example a 3 point los to the Uitsmijters who are 2th in the competition. My complements for playing games with only 5,6 or less players and still manage to make it exciting games. The first also ladies did better than the first man, winning a game more ;-). Let's hope next year the close games go our way because with a little more luck they should be able to do better. The ladies ended before last because Eurosped Twente backed down and didn't play a single game.

Last but not least Arriba Team "America" Heren 2. This team has great players but they don't always play like a great team. Mainly because a lot of guys left, a lot of new guys joint. Different languages. Trainings started really good and with some high skilled recreant players, training level was pretty high! The team spirit was also good. They showed it at the team presentation with Burak as a terrorist and Rick was his victim. Heren 2 had one problem, they only had 8th competition players. The question was not if they were good enough, but if they were with enough! The answer was almost. They only missed one game in all the season. A little unlucky it was against the number 2, Twente Buzzerds didn't want to put the match on an other date. They had some set backs with injuries (Both guards were out.) and they just missed the title and came in second. Only if they had one the 50 liters the sportcentrum rewards for becoming first in the competition. Well everybody get ready for the summerleague were first, last, second or third team doesn't matter and you can showcase your skills.

Arribasjemenou?!?!

Age: "You can't have sex with them, that's like throwing a cucumber in the hallway."

Oz: "You got your drivers license three weeks ago? Shit, that means you cannot drive, but you think you can."

Nick: "That reminds me, you guys need to watch for traffic signs, I forgot to put in my lenses."

Age & Oz simultaneously (scared looking): "Are you serious?"

Davey: "Oh nick, I was so scared last night in your car, I thought I was going to die!"

Gijs (hearing vengaboys: going to Ibiza): "Ooooh now I finally understand. I thought they were always saying, we're going to eat pizza!"

Beer: "Once in Lisse, I drew a pussy on the heater, and when I came back 5 minutes later, Davey burned his mouth."

Age: "If you would have said penis, I would have believed you."

Gijs: "Dat is wel raar dat we gewoon iets harder hadden moeten trekken."

Jennifer: „Gelukkig zijn er teams vol oude vrouwen die zwanger worden.“

Niek: "ik moest en zou vroeger van mijn ouders op dansles."

Harriet: "ik moest en zou vroeger van mijn ouders op zelfverdediging."

Mirte: "als Ning een tweeling zou zijn was het een tweening!"

Jennifer tegen Tim: "Geen schlappe Seppel op de volgende date!"

Dear Beer,

why are basketballplayers running with the Bata?

Hi there,

The reason that basketballplayers are running with the Bata isn't that complicated. As you probably know, Bata is short for Batavierenrace, which implies that the Bata has something to do with a race. As a matter of fact, it IS a race, a relay race to be precise. So your question was 'why are basketballplayers running with the Bata?' and the answer is easy: The Bata is a race and in a race you're ought to run.

Beer

Dear Beer,

which girl and guy do you think will run the quickest for arriba?

I think the quickest guy, just like previous years, will be arriba's asian sensatian Chendou Fuckin Chicken, who is also known by his adapted name Sander Vocke. He has the ability to enter some transcendental spacey zen state. Even though we call this state 'stoned' it actually enlightens him and because of this reduced earthly weight he is able to run really fast. For the girls part, I wouldn't dare predicting, because in some way stuff like this always ends up in other girls being mad at me. I do know that it won't be Age, since he is neither a girl nor running in the Bata.

Dear Beer,

can you give me some riddles so I am not bored in the van?

Sure, I have four:

1. Everybody knows what a prime number is. A pair of twin primes is a couple of prime number who only differ by two, such as 11 & 13 or 71 & 73. Are there an infinite amount of twin primes?
2. Is the shortest route between an n-amount of cities computable in polynomial time?
3. How can gravity be combined with electromagnetism, weak interaction and strong interaction into one theory?
4. Why did the chicken cross the road?

Input Nick

While the regular season of the NBA is almost over, this means that the award season is almost there. At Arriba, the season is already over, so this means, for the first team at least, awards should be handed out... (it would be great if every team would do this for the next arriblad!)

Below the name of the award will be given plus a description... It features only nba players who are currently playing.

KOBE Bryant award: Kobe is clutch, just watch some youtube videos of him... So, who is the clutchiest player in the 1st team? That would be Gijs. He should a game winning, buzzer beating, three pointer, while we were down by two. Our first win. The next game, he shot 20 free throws, to secure our second win! Very clutch, Gijs!

ArriBataBleed

LeBron James Award: LeBron can't do anything in the fourth quarter, as does Beer. He scored 26 points in the game, but with the game tied, with only three seconds left, Beer got the opportunity to shoot two free throws, to ice the game. He missed both, and we lost the game...

Timofey Mozgov award: go to youtube, and search for blake griffin timofey mozgov. He got dunked on hard. Just like Oz, at the game against Pluto. (there is a video of this one, just ask)

Anderson Varejeo award. A known flopper in the NBA. A flopper in the first team? Samuele de Guido. So many flops, which he believes to be charges... He lies more on the floor than he actually plays.

Gregg Popovic award. Currently one of the best coaches in the NBA. Although Bas is the coach, we cannot give him this award with a winning percentage of 9.5%. Seriously? This Award goes to Age, who has coached a team, with only 6 players, and won several games.

This brings me to the Paul Silas award: current coach of the bobcats, with a winning percentage of (at this time) 11.3%. Slightly better than Bas, however, not that very good... Thus Bas is getting this one.

4e Editie, 27.04.2012

Jeremy lin award: Jeremy Lin is asian and American. Sander (Chandau) is also asian, but not american. However, he should get this one, nationality wise!

Jason Terry/James Harden award: Both are currently the best players of the bench, averaging tons of points, assists, steals and in other categories. In almost every team, they would be in the starting five. Obviously, this award should go to me, myself and I. Although there is no reason to explain, I will do so: I own the court. That isn't hard, when surrounded by noobs... They cannot even catch the ball (hence I have no assists!). Actually, to think of it, I'm just to f-ing amazing. Damn I'm good.

The Glen 'Big Baby' Davis award: He is overweight, yells every time he goes to the basket, and once cried during a game. Plus he's really fat, so this should definitely go to Davey, you fat, piece of...

Joakim Noah award. One ugly looking center. I'm sorry Rene, but this one is for you.

Dirk Nowitzki award. He's big, he's german. Just as Robert. He's big, he's German, got a nice turn-around jumper from the post. Only his three point shot isn't that good. Nevertheless, Robert should get this one.

Big Tasty is terug!

Veel Arribanen herinneren zich vast het (inmiddels legendarische) interview van Gijs Luijten met Glenn nog wel. Vooral de uitspraken over het moeten missen van de Big Tasty als zij een bezoek aan de McDonald's brachten zal bij veel mensen in het geheugen gegrift staan. Maar er is goed nieuws! Dit interview heeft ook de hoge heren bij het fastfood restaurant, dat in de volksmond Mickey D (spreek uit: "Mikkie Die" waarbij de "ie" van "Die" langgerekt uitgesproken dient te worden) genoemd wordt, wakker gemaakt. Na het lezen van de tranentrekkende uitspraken in dit blad, konden zij het voor zichzelf niet meer verantwoorden om de Big Tasty uit het menu te houden. Omdat dit zonder de inspanningen van Gijs Luijten nooit gebeurd zou zijn, heeft het actiecomité "Big Tasty moet terug" (zie ook www.bigtastymoetterug.nl voor meer informatie over hun goede werk) hem de grootste Big Tasty ooit aangeboden. Gevraagd naar een reactie, sprak een zichtbaar geroerde Luijten: "Ommomnomnomnom."

Gijs Luijten met de grootste Big Tasty ooit, zojuist uitgereikt door een echte Ronald McDonald imitator

Recovery tips for muscle ache

First, a warm bath or warm shower would help, but since this is not an opportunity during the bata, we have to stick to other tips.

Second, coldness can work as painkiller. This is good news, because it is fucking cold during the first en second stage ;)

Third, we can advise magnesium. I think that nobody wants to read how it is working, so I will give you no explanation.

Our last advice is the primary one: You have to talk to others about your muscle ache, this will not lesson your pain, but it's good to hear that others also suffer. We advise you to do that with a cold beer during the ArriBarbecue with the other runners, because coldness and alcohol will work as painkiller, at least for the night ;)

Have you met the BATA TEAM

Dear readers of the Arriblad and possibly the BATA TEAM! After the night shift there's a morning shift, after the running there's a bbq, after that a party, the next day. For all the people that will read this piece of paper after us, you can fill it up.

Write something about every member of the bata team of your shift and let's see at the BBQ what you've made.

What shift are you in ?

What distance are you going to run ?

Oh what's your name?

What's your expectation of the bata?

Tell us something remarkable about a member of your team?

Did you hear a quote on the bustrip ?

What's your favorite move, position, play, tell us some basketball related stuff ?

What should everybody (or I) know about you ?

And for some of the regulars: Burgerking, McDonalds or kfc?

And what is your favorite order there?

Coffee or thee?

Bier, cola or wine?

It was nice interviewing ... .. now have a nice f*cking day!!!
